

Handwritten Latin text on a single sheet of aged, stained, and folded paper. The text is arranged in two columns, with a large, dark ink blot or stain on the right side of the lower half. The paper shows signs of significant wear, including creases, discoloration, and small holes near the bottom edge. There are several circular stamps or seals, some of which are partially obscured by the folds and stains. The text is written in a medieval script, likely Gothic or similar, and appears to be a list or a set of instructions, possibly related to a church or a specific institution.
